

Women Make The Difference...

Working women make America work. We keep the machines moving on assembly lines. We are public employees and work in retail. We tend to the sick. We teach and care for our children. And we do much, much more.

We all deserve a voice on the job — and an opportunity to win better wages and benefits and improved working conditions.

With our Teamsters Union, that's just what we've got.

Women just like you — teachers and flight attendants, nurses and manufacturing employees, police officers and professionals and many of others — belong to the Teamsters Union.

What makes us different? We are organized. We join together to negotiate with our employers. That makes our voices stronger. And we have legally binding contracts with our employers — contracts we help negotiate and that we vote on.

We women today are fighting for equal treatment on the job — and an opportunity to build a better future for our families.

With our Teamsters Union, we can do just that. And we invite you to join us in building an America that works for working women and their families. Check it out today.

Teamsters: Making America Work for Working Women